

Sleep Study Analysis and Reporting Service

The COVID-19 pandemic is having a massive influence on the ability of many sleep departments to maintain services in the face of unprecedented demand. As staff are rightly tasked to deal with direct consequences of the virus, assisting in direct patient care and support as required, there is inevitably a significant backlog of 'usual services' building in the background.

Sleep diagnostics have understandably been relegated to a lower priority and will remain so until the situation settles.

When the situation allows a return to the normal delivery of sleep services, it is inevitable that a backlog in diagnostics will already exist or will quickly appear, depending on recent referral patterns.

S-Med can help with your waiting list, by providing a support solution tailored for your department. If you have more junior staff managing the logistics of getting devices to and from patients, but not enough senior staff available to score the studies, we can offer you an offline scoring service.

It is probable that more senior staff will be the last to be released from emergency duties, and therefore it is likely that this issue will be common across many departments.

Please call us to discuss how we can best help you return to normal sleep service delivery. Flexible solutions guaranteed.
